We are committed to protecting your privacy when you provide data to us and have developed our privacy practices to align with applicable laws. This privacy policy (this “Privacy Policy” or “Policy”) discloses the privacy practices for XCMG America Inc. and XCMG America Financial LLC and other XCMG affiliates (collectively “XCMG,” “we,” “us” or “our”) with respect to the information we obtain from and about you. When you use, access or interact with <https://xcmg-usa.com> or any other XCMG website (collectively, our “Website”), you are agreeing to our Terms of Use and consenting to how we collect, share and otherwise use information about you in connection with your access and use of our Website as described in this Policy. We may make changes to this Policy in the future, so please review the Policy regularly.

This Policy applies solely to your personal information collected by this Website. The Policy provides what personally identifiable information (“Personal Data”) is collected from you through the Website, how the Personal Data is used and with whom it may be shared. Personal Data includes information that identifies, relates to, or could reasonably be linked with you or your household. For example, it could include your name, social security number, email address, records of products purchased, internet browsing history, geolocation data and inferences from other personal information that could create a profile about your preferences and characteristics.

This Policy will also notify you of:

- What choices are available to you regarding the use of your Personal Data.
- The security procedures in place to protect against the misuse of your Personal Data.
- How you can correct any inaccuracies in your Personal Data.

Currently, the Website is only intended for use within the United States. If you access the Website from outside the United States, please be aware that the information you provide to us is transmitted to, processed and stored in the United States, and by accessing the Website, you agree to this. Data will be protected subject to this Privacy Policy and applicable privacy laws in the United States.

1. Information You Provide Us

When you visit our Website, you provide us with certain Personal Data via email or through the Website. This information includes your first name, last name, email address, zip/postal code, address, industry application and mobile phone number. Users may opt out of future communications at any time via our Opt-Out Policy described in Section 8 below. We do not sell or rent this information to anyone.

When you contact us, we will use the information that you provide us to respond regarding the reason you contacted us. We do not share your information with any third party outside of our organization, other than as necessary with third-party service providers to fulfill your request, as further noted in Section 6 below.

2. Information We Automatically Collect from all Users

In addition to the information you provide to us, we operate our Website like many others online in that we use automated data collection tools such as cookies (“Cookies”), web beacons (“Web Beacons”) and similar technologies to collect and store certain information about how a user (including consumers and commercial dealers) accesses, uses and interacts with our Website (“Log Data”). By using our Website, you agree to our use of these tracking technologies.

A Cookie is a small data file sent from a website or application and stored on your computer or device. Cookies allow us to recognize your browser when you return to our Website and to remember your login information, as applicable. Cookies allow us to serve certain features, better understand how you interact with our Website and review aggregated usage. You may choose to set your web browser to refuse Cookies or alert you when Cookies are being used. If you disable Cookies, please be aware that some parts of our Website may not function properly.

Web Beacons are tiny graphics with a unique identifier that may be included on our Website for several purposes, including to deliver or communicate with Cookies, to track and measure the performance of our Website and to monitor how many visitors view our Website. Unlike Cookies, which are stored on the device, Web Beacons are typically embedded invisibly on web pages or in an e-mail.

Log Data is a key part of how we improve your experience on our Website and provide you with more personalized insights and recommendations. Log Data may include:

- certain information that your mobile device, laptop or other device sends when you use our Website;
- which features you visit or click on and pages you visit;
- your search history;
- the amount of time you spend looking at different parts of our Website;
- application or web browser type and version;
- language preferences;
- referral site;
- time and date of visit;
- operating system;
- hardware model;

- unique identifiers associated with your device;
- user settings; and/or
- Internet Protocol (“IP”) address, which is potentially identifying information.

We may combine this automatically collected information with other information we collect about you. We use Log Data to administer the Website and analyze (and may engage third parties to analyze) Log Data to improve, customize and enhance our Website or tailor our Website to our users’ needs.

3. Third Party Tracking and Our Website:

We may track your activity on the Website and use that information as provided in this Policy, but we do not track your activity across different websites or online platforms once you leave our Website.

However, when you use the Internet, unaffiliated parties such as ad networks, web analytics companies and social networking platforms may collect information about your online activities over time and across our and other websites. This information may be used to provide advertisements for products and services that may interest you, and those companies may use Cookies, clear GIFs and other tracking technologies. Depending on the operating system and browser technology used, you may be able to set your browser to refuse all or some browser Cookies, or to alert you when Cookies are being sent, including requests not to track your usage and browsing history.

Our Website contains links to other sites. Please be aware that we are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of such other sites. We encourage our users to be aware when they leave our Website and to read the privacy statements of any other site that collects Personal Data.
